Ladybird class assembly last week was based around a book called "Kitchen Disco". Every child in Year R received their own copy of this book kindly donated by the Book Trust (booktrust.org.uk). The children retold the story and had super fun "being" the fruit. There was the Banana DJ who played all the latest hits, the lemons who really loved to rap, the cheeky coconut who made the others laugh the apples, pears and grapes who all just loved to dance and finally the juicy oranges that "juiced" the parents!

Inside school this week....

On Friday 27th January we will be saying a temporary goodbye to Mrs Tudor, Ladybird class teacher as she starts her maternity leave. We wish her and her family well and best wishes for the imminent arrival of baby number 3! Will it be pink or will it be blue??

Mrs Odufona will be increasing her teaching days in Ladybird class and we welcome to the teaching staff team, Mrs Payne, a qualified teacher who has been volunteering her time in Ladybird class since September and will be teaching one day in Ladybird class and other PPA times across the school.

Please may I ask parents not to allow children to wear “smart watches” to school. They have several functions which are not appropriate for unsupervised use in an Infant School. Thank you.

Class Assemblies to parents 9.00—9.10am

We welcome parents, grandparents and carers to see their child’s class assembly. Whilst younger siblings are welcome please can we request that you try to keep them amused so that you and other parents can hear the children’s assembly words. Thank you.

Expansion Updates

It has been some time since we have updated you all on the building project and we are glad to say all is running smoothly. Over the Christmas holidays more pipework was laid from the Church View entrance to the new building, which was unfortunately very noisy for our neighbours. The new building is now watertight and the walls are all plastered, as you can see from the photos. Yesterday the Year R staff and myself had a meeting with the architect and interior designer to finalise the carpets, blinds, furniture and colours of the four new classrooms - dare I say much more interesting for us than the colour of the bricks or the finish of the roof!
